HOW BAD HABITS ARE FORMED

In nine cases out of ten the trouble is with the stomach and liver. Take a simple laxative and liver tonic and remove the irritating matter which deranges the stomach and causes the headache. Dr Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are composed entirely of the purest concentrated vegetable extracts. One Pellet is a dose; sugar-coated; easily swallowed; once used always in favor. They positively cure sick headache and remove the disposition to it.

Mr F Vargason, of Otis, Lake Lapeer Co Mich, writes: "I not infrequently have an attack of the headache. It usually comes on in the forenoon. At my dinner I eat my regular meal and take one or two of Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets immediately after, and in the course of an hour my headache is cured and no bad effects. I feel better every way for having taken them—not worse as is usual after taking other kinds of pills. 'Pleasant Pellets' are worth more than their weight in gold if for nothing else than to cure headache."

Let the building boom go on now that spring is here

Vincennes is taking a twist at enforcing the Sunday liquor law. Vincennes can make a success of enforcing the Sunday liquor law if its mayor is determined to do so. It all depends upon the mayor's backbone

The second international conference of the Epworth League is to be held in Chattanooga Tenn, on the 27th 28th and 29th of June. The people of this historic city are making great preparations for the big event

Dr Rainsford the New York clergyman who some of the liquor men love to quote is in favor of a wide open saloon. He would discourage men from drinking by increasing their opportunities to secure liquor

The Lagrange Standard is authority for the statement that Postmaster Fawcett has forwarded his resignation to the department with a request that Editor Shinn of the Lagrange Democrat be appointed his successor

It will be just as well for fighting editors to keep their coats on while talking about the Allianca affair. We are not going to war with Spain right away. The American eagle is not going to fight, or scream even, every time some statesman yells. Our eagle is too wise a bird to waste its lung power

Union and Confederate soldiers will meet at Shiloh April 5 6 and 7 to complete arrangements for the dedication of that famous battle ground as a national park. With the exception of the national cemetery at one side of it, which is carefully kept and is a beautiful spot the battlefield is in much the same condition it was when the conflict took place

It is learned from an ecclesiastical authority very near to Archbishop Corrigan that the latter received $3,000 as his fee for performing the Gould Castellane wedding ceremony. The archbishop received the money in the shape of a check signed by George Gould and handed by him to Fr Connelly, the archbishop's secretary. There was an understanding that $2000 of this sum was to go to the Catholic Orphans asylum in New York

The apologists for the saloons controvert the statement of The Sentinel that Martin Luther the reformer was a temperance advocate. We gave Martin Luther's own words for it. We would rather believe that he stood for temperance than that he was a wine bibber

The state financial board composed of Governor Matthews State Treasurer Scholz and State Auditor Dailey, have sent out notices of the letting of temporary loan bonds of the state. The board offers for sale $585 000 of bonds which are to replace the 3½ per cent bonds falling due April 1. Bids are to be received at the office of the auditor of state until 3 o clock next Saturday. The new bonds are to be sold at a rate not exceeding 3½ per cent. The bonds are to be redeemable at the pleasure of the state after fifteen years and are payable in twenty years from April 1 1895. The bonds it is announced will be issued in denominations to suit the purchaser. The auditor has already received inquiries about the bonds. It is said that they are looked upon as first class investments and the board expects to have no trouble disposing of them

That National Labor Commission

In an additional paper on the adjustment of labor difficulties Carroll Wright says that he does not believe at all in compulsory arbitration. Purely local strikes can be managed in the places in which they originate. But with transportation strikes and those involving extensive paralysis of business the public is intimately concerned and for these he would have a national board appointed in accordance with the provisions of the McGann bill now before congress. He says the bill provides

First—That a national board of arbitration shall be constituted for the purpose of conciliation whenever its good offices can be utilized

Second—For the broad investigation of matters to take that the public may be correctly and promptly informed of the facts

Third—For the submission in writing by the parties to a controversy of the difficulties and questions between them to the board for final and effective adjustment

It does not provide in any sense for compulsory arbitration. It and beyond these points the incorporation of labor organizations and follows along the lines of the patriotic message of the president in 1886 when he called the attention of the congress specifically to the necessity of a permanent board of arbitration, a board that could act quickly and without waiting for the heat of a contest. The French government by the law of Dec 27 1892 has crystallized these principles into its code relating to industrial arbitration and it is gratifying to the advocates of these measures to know that the law is working with fairly satisfactory results. The measure pending in the congress of the United States is one which should receive the cordial indorsement of both employers and employees because it is thoroughly fair to each and does not in any way infringe upon the rights of contract but its provisions tend to the establishment of the rights of the public in matters relating to transportation while preserving the integrity and the independence of employer and employee so far as they should be preserved in quasi public matters. The bill should it become a law would inevitably result in changing the status of railroad employees from purely corporate employees to quasi public servants. This is essential for the preservation of peace in transportation

Examinations For Trainmen

Surgeon Granville P Conn of Concord, N H, is of opinion that before men are employed on railroad trains they should be subjected to a thorough physical mental and moral examination. In a paper in The Medico Legal Journal he declares that the physical test should be as severe as that for the United States army. He is quite correct in supposing that this examination would weed out a large proportion of the men who now apply for places

After the applicant has passed the physical tests he may be admitted to the training classes for railroad employees, which Surgeon Conn would like to see established. The man should have as a basis for this instruction a good common school education to begin. He should be trained in the brake and signal systems and in the habit of inspecting tracks and every part of a car. Ventilation, cleanliness and the management of temperature Dr Conn lays great stress on. If his suggestions were carried out, the comfort and safety of the American railway passenger would be largely augmented. The public will thoroughly agree with the doctor that a trainman who bribes or bullies a newsboy into giving him peanuts and bananas and then throws the shells and skins upon the floor as freely as the dirtiest of the passengers does is not a fit subject for a place in the employment of a good railway company

A general movement in the larger cities seems to be making to get rid of tramps. Baltimore and Indianapolis have largely accomplished the feat, although it has to be done over again at the beginning of every winter. New York is to make the attempt next. A plan has been submitted to the mayor for the abolishment of the public gentleman of leisure. The first step will be to hold for examination next day all who apply to the police stations for lodging at night. All who do not belong in the city are to be sent out of it. An examination will be made into each case, the examination being so rigid that of itself it will strike terror to the tramp soul. Of the station lodgers belonging in New York those who are worthy objects of charity will be turned over to the city charities organization. Those who are ablebodied will be sentenced to the workhouse for from one to six months. A term of one month, however, will do little good. Only the prospect of a bath at least once a week for six months with work and the doing without whisky for the same term, will scare a tramp. That course of treatment would reform him more thoroughly than hanging him up by the thumbs or applying the rack to him

The Russian Hebrews who swarmed to this country had in most cases large and not very interesting families. Yet these children are fitting into American and republican conditions with amazing rapidity. They have, to begin, that happy self confidence which characterizes their race the world over. Added to this they are naturally linguists understanding in the start the Russian and Hebrew tongues. Knowing these any other language is mere play for them to learn. Among the brightest and most promising pupils of the city public schools are the young Russian Hebrews. They learn with amazing rapidity often and take naturally to writing, speaking and dramatic display. Some of these young Russian American Hebrews will be among the prominent newspaper men and politicians of the country when their time comes

SHE WORKED TOO HARD.

How a Young Girl Was Broken Down

Should Not Have Been Allowed to Thus Injure Herself

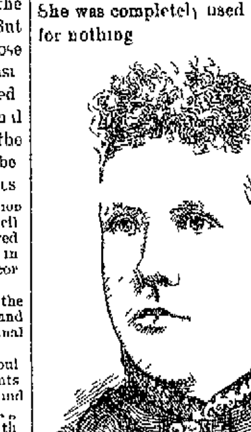

But of Course the Best Thing Was Done Under the Circumstances

Perhaps you think you are not working too hard but if you feel weak nervous tired fretful if you have dull feeling head, sleeplessness are easily disturbed or excited you are over taxing your nerve strength. They are sure symptoms of exhausted nerve power

Other symptoms soon follow such as dizziness trembling palpitation, dyspepsia kidney and liver disease poor blood and cold extremities. They lead to prostration paralysis insanity or premature death. Miss Blanche Atwood of Stowe Vt got into just this condition. Her mother Mrs S G Atwood writes as follows about her wonderful cure

About a year ago, my daughter, Blanche from too close application to study became worn out. Her head was all confused and at times she was almost crazy. She was terribly nervous and did not sleep well at all

'She was in a frightful condition, and we worried constantly about her. We were obliged to take her from school for she was not able to attend. She was completely used up and good for nothing

BLANCHE ATWOOD

A friend who had been cured by Dr Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy advised us to try it. She commenced using it, and almost immediately began to improve. Her nerves grew strong, she slept well and her head became clear

'She was soon entirely cured of all her troubles and was in perfect health. The medicine benefitted her general health also as she was much better and stronger than before. I recommend Dr Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to everybody

If you have overworked in any way and weakened your nerves or injured your health you can get well by taking this wonderful medicine. There are thousands of people who are in just this condition. They are not sick with any particular disease but they are out of order, have weak nerves and tired bodies. The do not eat or sleep well wake tired in the mornings have lost their snap and energy and work becomes an effort. Such people need Dr Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It gives health and strength. It should by all means, be used at this season, for it is the best of all spring medicine

It is not a patent medicine but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases Dr Greene, of 35 West 14th St New York City. He has the largest practice in the world and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time, free of charge personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine

CONTRACT LABORERS.

One Hundred and Twenty-five of Them Headed Off.

Were Diamond Cutters and Were En Route Here, to Work for Importers of the Precious Stones

New York, March 21—The large consignment of diamond cutters for whom the immigration authorities have been on the lookout arrived today on board the White Star line steamship Majestic from Liverpool. There were 125 of them, all second cabin passengers. They were detained and sent to Ellis island, suspected of being contract laborers. Anticipating their arrival on the Majestic, Dr Sennor, commissioner of immigration, had assigned an extra large force of inspectors to the work of gathering the foreigners in. More than two hours was consumed in the work of placing the men safely on board the landing boat for Ellis island

There they will be given a speedy examination and those who can be proven to have come over under contract will be sent back. This will be done in accordance with the decision of Secretary Carlisle last Saturday in which he held that diamond cutting was not a new industry which the importers of this city claimed and that those coming under contract were to be treated as any other contract laborers. The Majestic sailed March 13, three days before the secretary arrived at a decision in the matter

Everyone about the pier remarked the exceptionally fine appearance of the men and Purser Brandt, of the Majestic declared them to be the most desireable lot of immigrants ever brought to this country. They were all well dressed and many of them looked as though they had just slipped from a London tailoring establishment. The majority of them, it was stated were well provided with money. They come principally from Belgium and Holland

Mrs W H Fleming and daughter, Miss Esther left today for Toledo to visit Mrs Backus for a short time

EIGHTY YEARS OLD!

Over Half a Century a Citizen of Fort Wayne.

William B Walter Writes His Farewell Address and Discusses Several National Topics

William B Walter one of our oldest and most esteemed citizens and a frequent contributor in times past to the newspapers of this city is eighty years old today, and hence takes this anniversary as the occasion for writing his farewell letter in which he gives expression to his views upon several questions which he has frequently discussed through the columns of the papers. He is a clear and forcible writer and has decided opinions on public questions. His letter, addressed to The Sentinel is as follows

Editor Sentinel

According to a record of births in the old family Bible the undersigned became an octogenarian at 3 o clock this morning, March 21 1895. He has been a citizen of Fort Wayne nearly fifty one years and has seen it grow from a very small beginning to its present grand proportions. As to health, he is quite well preserved and can walk a mile in twenty minutes with little or no fatigue. His habits have always been regular and he was never drunk in his life. He has no use whatever for liquors and tobacco and can see nothing but evil in them. Some people use narcotics and yet live to a good old age, but how many years longer they could and would live without them is never mentioned

One thing is certain, namely, that alcohol is a poison and if used habitually is but a slow suicide and will sooner or later destroy human life. It will preserve bugs, spiders snakes and the like and so will arsenic but it will also put snakes into one's boots. To its use, as a beverage is directly traced 90 per cent of all the crimes and social evils in the world and yet its sale and manufacture is legalized and licensed. Worse than strange or even mysterious this is a mark of political insanity the most potent and degrading of all others. As to the weed called tobacco it is not only more disgusting but far less useful than either 'rag weed,' 'smart weed' or even dog fennel

Please listen to a few more expressions from an octogenarian known in the past as 'Old America' in contradistinction to that of young America. I hope your readers will do so because even among the ancient pagans the advice and opinions of the sages were sought after and respected. Then don t get it into your heads my boys that the age we live in is up to the highest mark of civilization. Our late congress and state legislature both prove the contrary. To me it looks as if the people must all be 'born again' Public opinion must undergo a radical change and for that purpose our pagan system of education must be abandoned. Not only the laws of health but those which form the basis of our social and political system must be better understood and the moral code must be deeply impressed upon the minds of youth by object lessons exemplified in the daily lives of those who teach * * *

As the family, so the nation, and as no family can be prosperous and happy unless every member thereof make some personal sacrifice for the general good, and do so cheerfully and pleasantly so too must every citizen learn this great lesson and practice it. This is true patriotism and without patriotism no nation can endure. Physical patriotism or animal force we have plenty of it but moral patriotism, which is just as essential in times of peace, we have precious little of it except upon the lips on the 4th of July or some such occasion. The people are sending few, if any, moral patriots to our legislatures, state or national, and the truth is that they have but few or none at all to send. The large major ity seem to be little more than intellectual vampires bent on the ruin of their country and the impoverishment of the people. The constitution ought to prohibit them from creating a public debt, which is not a national blessing," except to the rich only. To the masses of the people it is a national curse and nothing less. We can never prosper while paying a million a week interest on a bonded debt. Interest is a malignant cancer on the body politic eating its way day and night and will ultimately destroy its victim * * * To the people belong the public lands and the minerals therein contained. Thus far both have been most prodigally wasted and gone to enrich individuals only. Let the people see to it that the government husband what is left—favor the poor and the many rather than the rich and the few and when it needs gold and silver call on the idle laborers of the country to go and dig it. It is theirs and if, perchance, some of it gets into their pockets far better so than to congress Wall street or London. Then again, the salaries of all the officers are entirely too high and a source of political corruption, and, as civilization advances the elective franchise too will be reformed, purified and extended to all law abiding citizens but to them only and thus it will cease to be what it is at present both a farce and a fraud. No greater check upon wrong doing could possibly be devised than that of disfranchisement * * *

And now a few words more in regard to myself personally because I intend this as my last public expression outside the book I am compiling. I would not live always—I ask not to stay, but when the end comes I do ask, beg and pray that I get no 'send off' so common now a days. Neither praise nor blame will then do me any good and as I die the death of a poor sinner I want not the funeral of a rich one. No flowers, no organ music nor even sermon if it be a part of the same "send off." Let the undertaker furnish carriages for none but the pall bearers and nearest akin and avoiding every kind of display, so vain and unbecoming pass along the least frequented streets to the cemetery and there the only epitaph I want is already on the granite stone, 'At Rest'

A 1 — Run

When one leaves the main line of railway east or west and travels or tries to travel on the same road which more closely serves a local purpose he is likely to find prevailing a free and easy state of things as regards speed and schedule time. An Australian correspondent gives this account of a certain fine out there

People never take this train except for journeys of considerable length. Walking is as easy and much safer for short distances. On a recent occasion, when the movement of the train was even more deliberate than usual, a passenger went to the conductor and said

'Ain t we going pretty slow?'

"Well" said the conductor, 'we ain't flying I'll admit'

"May I ask what the trouble is, then?"

'Ain t any trouble"

"Then why don t we go faster?"

'Well I'll tell you since you seem to be so inquisitive. Back here we found a 2 year old bull stuck in the trestle, and we stopped and helped him out. Now the rules of the road are that in such cases the animal belongs to the company

But how does that make you run so slow

'Run slow? Why that 'ere bull ain't used to being led, and when we hitched him on behind the train he didn t walk well. I'm doing all I can—got one of our men punching him from behind with a [illegible] tied to the bell rope. But if you think I'm going to twist the horn off as good a bull as there is in the county, why, you're awfully mistaken that's all"

A Twentieth Century Episode

The table appointments are charming the dinner perfect so far but the nonappearance of the maid after the first course creates a dilated panic in the mind of Mrs Henry Culture's husband

My dear, he ventures in so low a voice that the question, should it prove unwelcome might pass for a prolonged cough, why don t you ring for Kate?"

My dear, looked politely annoyed

I wouldn't think of interrupting her. I wouldn't dare. Her literary club meets tonight and this is the only time she has to study. She can t serve the table and Ibsen at the same time. Ibsen my dear requires undivided attention. This with charming tolerance.

The cook then, my dear" he replied with unprecedented insistence. Why can't she take Kate's place?"

Mrs Heavy Culture looked at her husband over the bowl of roses. (She was tall he was short and light)

"Don't you know that her Trilbic Hypnotic club met this afternoon, and that she will not be home until 8 o'clock? She rises. "Pray excuse me while I bring in the fish"—Detroit Free Press

Angelina (to her husband, who is going to Paris—"on business," of course—without her)—Do you think, darling you'll be able to enjoy yourself in Paris without me?

Edwin—I'll try not to, dear. Believe me, Angy I'll try my hardest not to.

Not to Be Depreciated

'What a disagreeable creature the grip microbe is!' said the young woman

'Well" replied Cholly Cadkins, "I wouldn't think of speaking disrespectfully of it. You know it has been associating with the royal families'—Washington Star

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

General Manager R. T. McDonald Buys a Private Car—Affairs of the Shop and Rail.

Never in the history of excursions was there as much interest displayed in that line so early in the season as at the present Master of Transportation Hunter, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, has already booked twelve to Rome City and he is kept busy answering inquiries concerning rates and dates. Those to Rome City are as follows:

PASSENGER AGENT DEAD.

William Dwight Wetherill, special passenger agent of the Pennsylvania railroad, died in St. Louis last evening, after an illness of three years. He had held the position of special agent in that city for the past fifteen years, and was well known to members of the theatrical profession. The deceased was a prominent Elk and member of the Grand Army of the Republic.

R. T. M'DONALD'S NEW CAR.

The magnificent private car of General Manage R. T. McDonald, of the Electric Corporation, with that gentleman aboard, came in from the east over the Pittsburg last night, and is now standing on a siding at the electric works. This car was built at a cost of $20,000 a year ago for the president of the Northern Pacific railway, and was purchased last week in Chicago by Mr. McDonald. It has no superior in this country.

BRIEF MENTION.

Jacob Gretsinger, machinist at the electric works, is disabled by a lame hand.

Henry Terrell has been appointed receiver of the San Antonio and Gulf Shore road.

Quite a number of the electric works employes attended the funeral of Mrs. Becker yesterday.

Link Johnson, of the electric works, is taking a couple of days off to attend to some private affairs.

John Cuppert, of the electric works, will be taken into Summit City lodge, No. 36, A. O. U. W., tonight.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lepper are recovering after a serious sickness. Mr. Lepper works at the electric works.

This morning the electric works shipped two seventy-five arc machines and one alternator of 2,000 light power to Bloomington, Ill.

Last night John Woodward, of the electric works, was summoned to Michigan by a telegram announcing the serious illness of his mother.

Capt. R. L. Cobb, who, for several years, has been chief engineer of the Ohio Southern, has resigned and, it is stated, is to go with the Erie people.

Paul Wood, John J. Bauer and John Chadwick have resumed their respective duties at the electric works, after an absence on account of the Masonic convocations.

The interstate commerce commission is preparing for an extensive tour of the west in order to hear cases that have arisen in that section which demand adjudication.

The Pennsylvania railroad has issued a general circular to all ticket agents refusing to allow them to sell tickets over the Sea Board Air line either to points on that system or to points reached by it.

Peru Journal: "Sam Cutshall, who has been here for a few days visiting friends, returned to Fort Wayne at noon today. He expects to resume his run on the Wabash about the first of the month."

F. Berghorn, of the Pittsburg boiler shop, is sick and off duty.

Fireman Barnes and Grover Miller, of the Nickel Plate, are enjoying a vacation.

The Rose Coghlan Dramatic company went to Columbus, Ohio, over the Pittsburg this morning.

Charles LaRue, Pittsburg train dispatcher, is suffering with the grip for the second time this season.

The main shaft in the Standard Wheel works broke yesterday morning and the works were closed until noon today.

J. S. Reynolds, the attorney for the Panhandle company, was a passenger on No. 8 last night, bound for New York.

General Manager H. L. Magee, of the Wabash, passed through the city on No. 42 this morning, riding in his private car.

William Slater, the traveling representative of the Mailcarriers' union, returned from the west last night and will be in the city several days.

M. P. Gaskell, a painter in the Pittsburg shops, cut his right wrist badly with a putty knife this morning. Dr. G. C. Stemen dressed the wound.

Nickel Plate engine 38 was brought down from Stony Island last night and will do yard duty, vice No. 52, which will go into the shops for repairs.

Jule Goshway, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is able to be out, but has not yet resumed work. He is still suffering from the effects of an attack of grip.

Engineer Frank Findlay, who was injured in the Wabash roundhouse fire at Toledo, is improving rapidly. He sent word to his wife that he would come home this evening.

L. A. Bookwalter, the well known machinist in the Pittsburg shops, received the particulars last night of the death of his brother, which occurred in Philadelphia last Friday.

Ralph Lopeman, Fred Hensel and J. W. Nolan have taken positions as firemen on the Nickel Plate. Hensel and Lopeman have been assigned to duty on the third district and Nolan on the fourth.

C. D. Woolpert, who for some weeks was night operator in the Nickel Plate yard office, has been transferred to Knox and his place here has been filled by A. R. Pritchard, of Green Springs.

Fireman McGinnis has resumed his duties on the Nickel Plate, after laying off to move his family and household goods from Cleveland to this city. He is now comfortably housed on Breck street, near the roundhouse.

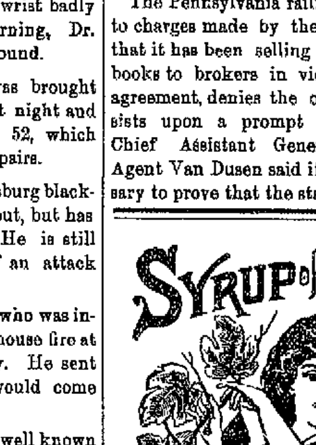

The second class passenger rates over the Santa Fe have been restored to the regular figure of $52.50, Los Angeles, Cal, to Chicago. It has transpired since Passenger Traffic Manager White returned to Chicago that the Texas an Pacific and its eastern connections were cutting the rates, but that so keen was the competition in these lines that they contrived to get away with the business for which sleeping accommodations over the Santa Fe had already been received.

The fishing season was ushered in Tuesday afternoon by Engineers Haenel, Quinn and Baughman, of the Nickel Plate, who spent several hours in the vain attempt to hook a sucker. They had to cut holes in the ice, into which they cast their hooks, but neither fisherman got a bite.

The Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway company has issued a neat advertisement in the shape of a combined paper weight and match box. The newspaper men have been served with boxes and they find them convenient receptacles for paste, being too poor to smoke, and having no use for matches. It is understood that hereafter a pair of scissors will accompany each match box donated to reporters.

John H. Inman, of New York, in a letter to the Manufacturers' Record, says: "As an indication of renewed activity in the southern country, I may report that I have sold 45,000 acres of coal land, which I have owned for a long time, on the Cumberland platteau, in the Chattanooga district, to New York parties, for $275,000. They will probably commence developing the property before a great while."

The Pennsylvania railroad, in answer to charges made by the Monon road that it has been selling short mileage books to brokers in violation of the agreement, denies the charge and insists upon a prompt investigation. Chief Assistant General Passenger Agent Van Dusen said if it was necessary to prove that the statements of the Monon were false, the Pennsylvania company would submit their books to an investigation. But until such a hearing is given they will refuse to submit their books to an inspection. Mr. Van Dusen has asked for a hearing within a few days.

THE COLONY OF SHALAM.

Where Hetty Green's Cousin Is Making Children's Land.

[Special Correspondence.]

LAS CRUCES, N.M., March 14.—Years ago two children, cousins and constant playmates, romped together about New Bedford. One of them was Hetty Green, now rich beyond the dreams of avarice and avaricious beyond the imaginings of poverty. The other was Andrew M. Howland. He became a very successful wholesale wool merchant in Boston and amassed a large fortune, the whole of which he is now pouring into a home for destitute children. He has founded a colony called Shalam, which means "peace and plenty," some eight or ten miles from this place, at the western border of the Rio Grande valley. The colony is under the wing of a sect calling themselves "Faithists of Jehovah," of which Mr. Howland is an ardent member.

A. M. HOWLAND.

Incidentally the Faithists intend to reorganize the religions, the science and the political economy of the world in accordance with the teachings of their bible, Oahspe, which was revealed through Dr. J. H. Newborough, formerly a New York dentist. But the work especially enjoined upon them by their bible and their object as set forth in their charter of incorporation is to gather into Shalam helpless, homeless, parentless children, the children whom no one else wants, and there carefully educate them and train them to be self supporting. When they reach years of discretion, they can either return to the world or remain with the colony, as they choose.

The Faithists believe in community of goods, and so Mr. Howland is in no sense the owner of the 1,400 acres of land, with all improvements, upon which the colony is located, although the money expended was all once his. The ex-wool merchant and financial magnate of Boston is now only "trustee for the children at Shalam." But nevertheless he is the head, shoulders and feet of the enterprise, and is throwing into it all his heart, strength and energy just as freely as he has already cast in all his fortune.

Mr. Howland is a small sized man, 60 or 65 years old, with long, heavy, slightly curling hair and whiskers, now almost white, but evidently once of a reddish cast. What his whiskers leave visible of his face is thoughtful and very earnest, but kindly in expression. His blue eyes are set wide apart and are the eyes of a dreamer and idealist. He is a picturesque figure as he hurries about the ranch in his costume of white helmet, Chinese blouse of white flannel, Turkish trousers of white duck, blue sash and tan colored shoes and leggings. When the weather is fair, he goes barefooted, bare armed, more or less barelegged and usually bareheaded.

He is a vegetarian, as are all the Faithists, of the strictest sort, and he hates animal food with all the fervor of a true follower of that principle, but no more than he hates a photographic camera. Many are the kodak owners who have ridden out to Shalam and tried to persuade or inveigle him into being photographed. They have always found him both obdurate and wary, and not one of them has been successful. But I have been fortunate enough to get a sketch of him from an artist who had visited Shalam.

Associated with Mr. Howland are a number of helpers, young men and women, who are all of singularly serene and wholesome aspect. Whether it is their vegetarian diet, their unquestioning faith, their unselfishness, the frequent bathing their religion commands, their untroubled lives, or what not, never have I seen anywhere else such delicate, clear, healthful skins, bright eyes and serene faces. The women are especially notable for the pure, brilliant white and rich coloring of their complexions. Even the children, born though they were in the squalor of the slums and until they came here knew no purity of body or of mind, show already the same sweet, happy faces, pure complexions and rosy cheeks.

The care, training and teaching of the children, so that they may grow up with sweetness of spirit, vigor of body and keenness of intellect, is the especial work of the women of Shalam. Their leader in this is Mr. Howland's wife, a happy faced young woman from Boston, whom he married in the colony not long ago.

Asked why he had come to this out of the way corner of the world to start the colony, Mr. Howland replied:

"We wish to bring up the children entirely away from the contaminating influences of flesh eaters, liquor drinkers and those who find their pleasure in the gratification of their lower passions. Then we believe that in and near all great cities a vast army of drujas, spirits of the dead who lived wicked lives, lie in wait to bring children under the same influences which ruined them. But here the little ones are safe."

Thousand and one cranky notions though there are in the belief of the Faithists, the life at Shalam is pathetically beautiful, pathetic in its simple and unhesitating faith that through them the whole world shall be revolutionized, and surpassingly beautiful in the generous and loving devotion that lays all of life, strength and wealth at the feet of these little waifs of the world's crime and misery.

FLORENCE FINCH-KELLY

His Perquisite.

"Waiter, a dozen oysters to commence with."

Baptiste comes along with the dish of oysters, takes up one, the finest in the lot, and swallows it right in the teeth of the stupefied customer.

"Come, now, waiter, what is the meaning of this?"

"Monsieur," Baptiste coolly replied, "I counted them. There were 13."—Rappel.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at Rives Junction, she was brought down with pneumonia, succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at Dreier & Bro.'s Drug Store. Regular size, 50c and $1.00.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery, for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed; Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys; Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at Dreier & Bro.'s Drug Store.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

Those Horrible Streets.

"If you can't keep your feet dry and avoid the mud in any other way, why don't you put on your rubber boots?" inquired his wife.

"Why don't I keep off the mud with my rubber boots?" repeated Bilson angrily, surveying the Chicago street. "Because my rubber boots only come to my waist, that's why."—Chicago Record.

Quite a number of visitors yesterday watched the process of cleaning out the city waterworks wells at the north side park. During the morning pieces of rock and gravel the size of hens' eggs were blown out In the afternoon after the pumping process had been begun it was found that one well which had for some time been given up as dry had begun to flow at the rate of 150 gallons per minute. If all the thirty-five wells can be forced to this capacity the city will have an excellent supply for the next few years at least

The county commissioners this week visited the poor farm, making their regular quarterly inspection They found everything in excellent condition, Superintendent Felts having placed the institution under the highest possible condition of excellence There are now between ninety and one hundred occupants at the infirmary, but with the advent of warm weather this number will drop down to about sixty or seventy. The percentage of pauperism in this county is no larger than that of neighboring counties, considering the population. In fact, it is not so great as some.

A question of considerable controversy at present is, 'Who should be served last at the dinner?" In these days when fads and fancies abound to such an alarming degree regarding tableware, the knowledge of the use of the various forks, spoons and other table accessories has become almost an art, and the observance at one dinner does not carry a novice successfully through the next Etiquette forbids one guest waiting for another to be served so he must not stand upon the order of his eating, but eat at once, and if perchance he use his ice cream fork in disposing of the salad, sooner or later confusion is his This difficulty is obviated by serving the hostess first. While it does not smack of true politeness for the hostess to eat while guests are waiting to be served, it paves the way for the uninitiated in the intricacies of table belongings and their usage. This conventionality is usually waived to do honor to the guest of distinction for whom the dinner is given

The Results Will be Published by This Paper as the Investigation Goes On.

Distribution Was Continued This Morning, Beginning at 9 O'Clock, at the Journal Office.

Tomorrow Is the Last Day.

Yesterday from 9 a m to 5 p m the Journal office was crowded with citizens of Fort Wayne and surrounding towns who wished to obtain a free sample of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure

The throng was composed of people from all the walks of life The banker, minister, mechanic and farmer one just as anxious as the other to obtain relief from this dread disease. During the day could be seen on the streets, in the stores, cars and offices, men and women carefully counting out their dose of the wonderful little pellets, fearful that they should miss an hour of the forty eight in which time Munyon's Remedy is guaranteed to cure

Prof. Munyon's representative was seen at the Wayne Hotel last evening, and in response to a reporter's inquiries said: "We have no doubt whatever as to the result of this test, having passed through the most searching investigations in Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Washington, Pittsburg, Cleveland, St. Louis, Rochester and Buffalo, made by the leading papers in those cities, and in no case have we failed to cure less than 94 out of every 100 who used the Remedies as directed. Oh, yes," he remarked, "this company puts up a cure for every disease just as efficacious as this one, and by the time this investigation is finished we expect to have at least 15,000 people in Fort Wayne converted to this school of medicine"

Munyon's Remedies are radically different from those used by the regular school of homeopathy, or any other system of medicine There is no experimenting, no guess work, no danger, no loss of time If you have a disease Munyon has the cure.

DEATH IN A MINE!

Over Eighty Miners Killed in Wyoming

By an Explosion in the Central Pacific Mine.

Rescue Parties Searching for the Bodies.

The Explosion Wrecked the Power Plant and Surrounding Buildings and Carried Death in Its Wake.

RED CANYON, Wyo., March 21.—A fearful explosion occurred in the mines here and it is feared the number of dead will reach over eighty miners, who are imprisoned, in addition to ten who were in the power house above ground or near the shaft openings. The slopes and entrances to the lower workings are all blockaded by wreckage, and it is thought that at least three days will be required for rescue parties to reach the bodies in the mine.

The horror occurred at 5:45 yesterday evening at No. 5 Central Pacific mine, Red Canyon, five miles north of Evanston. The explosion in the mines shocked the whole country around, wrecked the power plant, a fan house and several other buildings, entailing heavy loss, but the death roll far overshadows other considerations.

Edwin Cox, the outside carpenter; James Bruce, outside boss; James W. Clark, William Sellers, jr., and James Gernley, an Austrian, were killed in the power house, while O. Maltby, foreman; Jerry Crawford, and Andrew Mason, were injured and died soon afterward, the last three being about the power house at the time of the explosion. A few hours later the dead bodies of James Lamb and Fred Morgan were brought from the slope, only a short distance down, but as this is written there is around the mine a great throng of people anxiously inquiring regarding friends known to be in the mine, and all hope of any of them being alive is gone.

No one after seeing the ghastly spectacle presented by the two bodies brought out of the slope could have hopes of any in the mine being alive. Both of these bodies were burned and blackened, with their garments torn to shreds, making it almost impossible to identify them. How many were in the mine at the time of the explosion will take time to tell, but the best information obtainable now places the number at over eighty. Nearly all known to be killed leave large families.

Immediately after the explosion, Superintendent Bradbury telephoned to Evanston for all the physicians with an extra train. The Tribune correspondent went on the train and viewed the scene of the disaster before darkness set in. The relief corps carrying lanterns, got ready to descend in hopes of rescuing alive some of the victims. The blacksmith shop was turned into a dead house, with four bodies lying there, one disfigured with its head blown off, the others less mangled.

Brave men had tried to descend some of the air escape slopes without success, and it was not until three hours after the explosion that a volunteer party entered the main entrance to the slopes and soon afterward returned with two bodies. They reported that caves had stopped further progress down the slope. Then a party went down to clear away the caves, after which the searching party again entered and work in that direction is now going on. This slope being down 2,000 feet, with nine levels, each being one and a half miles long, will probably require several days to reach all parts of the mine.

A few lives were saved because of the time of the explosion. The miners quit work at 6 o'clock and it is customary for them to be near the entrance and come out just as the whistle blows. A number of men had come out and some had just left the entrance to the mine slope, away from the working tunnel, when the explosion occurred, thus escaping death.

Zeke Baker, his father and brother came out five minutes before the explosion. Zeke was hit by the timber which killed the Crawford boy, but he was not much hurt. John Hanna, a carpenter, had just come out and was talking to Cox and Bruce when they were killed, he being burned slightly. It was understood the following persons were in the mine: William Brown, John Lark, Jos. Highton, Geo. Hicks, John Feare, Aaron Butler, John Crutchley, E. Sloan, John Dexter, Charles Clark, Thomas, James and Samuel Hutchinson, Geo. Hardy, Wm. Langdon and son, John Feehee, Wm. Weedup, John Martin, jr. A. Weigh was the only person in the power house not killed, he being but slightly burned, except the engineer, who was blown through the window, but little hurt.

Around the mine is a population of about 2,000. Many families are bereft of their fathers or sons. A more sorrowful community could not be found, with children and women, mourning the loss of husbands, fathers and brothers.

The explosion is described by many as most terrific, shaking the whole town and causing women and children to run into the streets crying, "Oh, my husband," "Oh, my papa," with raised hands, imploring for the safety of the beloved ones.

The explosion is supposed to have come from a blast setting fire to dust, making a dust explosion, since the mine was supposed to be free from gas, and being well ventilated. The Rocky Mountain company generally designated as the Central Pacific mines, have two mines, numbers 5 and 6, with one mile face, making two separate mines with 150 feet pillars separating them.

This is the third disastrous explosion in this vicinity. In 1881 No. 2 mines, Rocky Mountain, exploded, killing thirty six Chinese and four white men. In the spring of 1886, Union Pacific mine, No. 4, killed thirty six men. Newell Beeman, manager, arrived from Salt Lake last night, and hastened to the mine and is doing all he can for the injured and bereaved, and to reach those in the mine.

SIXTY ONE PERISHED.

EVANSTON, Wyo., March 21.—It is now figured out from the company's list and pay rolls that sixty-one men perished.

About thirty of the men killed belonged to the Ancient Order of United Workmen, which pays to the heirs of its deceased members $2,000.

IDENTIFIED.

The Woman Who Committed Suicide in Boston is Known.

Her Maiden Name Was Clara Hathaway and She Made a False Entry on the Hotel Register.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The identity of the young woman who committed suicide at the Adams house, Boston, on Tuesday, has been established. She had lived here for several years, but never lived in Holyoke, it is said. She registered from the latter place and signed a fictitious name, Grace M. C. Norton, on the hotel register for the avowed purpose of hiding her identity, for she went to Boston with her mind fully made up to take her own life. Clara Hathaway was her maiden name. About a year ago she went to Boston, her friends understood, for the purpose of joining Rice's Extravaganza company.

There she met a wealthy shoe man, Frank Richard Laird, who induced her to go to Pittsburg, where she lived with him for several months, as Mrs. Laird. Last August the woman, it is said, insisted on a ceremony of marriage being performed and a quarrel was the result. The aid of the police was invoked, by Laird, and Miss Hathaway was accompanied fifty miles on an enforced journey toward New York by a Pittsburg officer. When relieved of her escort she very promptly returned to Pittsburg and prosecuted Laird criminally for his part in the forcible removal from the city. She succeeded in having him fined. She then began a suit for breach of promise of marriage against Laird, ex District Attorney Archibald H. Howand, of Allegheny county, being her attorney.

This action was pending at the time of her death. Miss Hathaway is described as a highly educated woman and is said to have been the daughter of wealthy parents. She eloped from an Iowa seminary at the age of seventeen, and was disowned by her father, and when deserted by her husband within two years from their marriage, she would not seek a reconciliation with her family, but came east. Often, it is said, she tried to get out of the life she was leading, and at one time she was about to become a trained nurse, but was dissuaded by Mr. Laird. She was twenty nine years old.

GETS A NEW TRIAL.

William W. Pancoast May Escape the Gallows.

His Crimes Were Bank Robbery and Complicity in the Murder of His Wife.

MANDAN, N. D., March 21.—Wm. W. Pancoast, the Ohio bank robber and alleged wife murderer, sentenced to hang May 23, gets a new trial. Pancoast robbed a Medina, Ohio, bank of several thousand dollars a few years ago, ran away to Canada and thence to Minneapolis, where he changed his name to Myron R. Kent. There he married Miss Julia Holmes, a young lady in the first circles, and in the fall of 1892 moved to a farm near Mandan. In March, 1893, Mrs. Kent was murdered and Kent disappeared. A hired man, Sorberiskt, was arrested and confessed that he killed Mrs. Kent for $1,800, which Kent promised to give him.

Kent was arrested in Colorado brought back here and convicted of murder in the first degree. The supreme court of North Dakota, in granting a new trial, holds that when the defendant presents an affidavit stating that he cannot have a fair trial by reason of bias and prejudice of the judge, it is the absolute duty of such judge to call in another judge to help try the case. The court says the word "may" in the statute must be considered as mandatory.

SPRINGER APPOINTED.

President Cleveland Elects Him to a Place in Court.

Ex-Congressman Kilgore Receives a Similar Appointment—Other Men Who Will Work for Uncle Sam.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The following appointments were announced at the white house today.

Wm. M. Springer, of Illinois, judge of the United States court of the northern district of the Indian territory.

W. M. SPRINGER.

Constantine Buckley Kilgore, of Texas, judge of the United States court of the southern district of the Indian territory.

To be marshals of the United States: Samuel M. Rutherford, of the Indian territory, for the northern district of the Indian territory; Lucian L. Stowe, of the Indian territory, for the southern district of the Indian territory.

To be attorneys of the United States: James V. Walker, for the central district of the Indian territory; Andrew C. Cruce, of the Indian territory, for the southern district of the Indian territory.

William E. Powers, postmaster at Hastings, Mich.

The two Indian territory judgeships are newly created offices established by an act of the last congress, framed for the purpose of checking in a measure the great spread and growth of lawlessness and crime in the Indian territory, which had become a refuge of robbers and outlaws.

The judges are well known ex-congressmen, Mr. Springer having served in the house of representatives for many years and having taken a prominent part in debates as one of the democratic leaders. He was chairman of the banking and currency committee in the last congress and of the ways and means committee in the preceding congress. He has always kept up his legal reading and has been counsel before the United States supreme court in many cases during his congressional career. Soon after his defeat for congress in the landslide of the last election he was tendered the supreme court practice of one of the principal granger roads and had its acceptance under advisement for a time. He owns a house in Washington and is fairly well to do.

Judge Kilgore had served in the last four congresses, and had attracted a great deal of attention by reason of his vigorous personality and frequent objections to various bills. He is a Georgian by birth, and sixty years of age. He served in the late war and his courage, it is believed, will make him useful in dealing with the lawless element who must be tried in the Indian territory courts.

TRAGIC DEATH.

In the Attitude of Prayer She Awaited the End.

A Poor, Demented Female Wanders Away From Home and Meets Death on a Railroad.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., March 21.—The woman who was struck by a locomotive on the Camden and Atlantic railroad in Camden, N. J., on Tuesday, has been identified as Mrs. Ely, of Norwich, Conn., who has been under treatment for melancholia at the Bryan Mawr, Pa., hospital for about three months. The unfortunate woman eluded the vigilance of her nurse at the hospital and traveled ten miles to this city, afterward crossing the Delaware river to Camden and meeting death on the outskirts of that city. It is evident that Mrs. Ely committed suicide. She was observed walking on the track by the engineer and instead of leaving it when the locomotive whistle was sounded, she dropped to her knees and wrung her hands as though in prayer or mental agony. The point of the pilot struck her squarely on the back, terribly mangling her and causing instant death. Mrs. Ely leaves a husband and four children at Norwich. Friends of the family arrived from that city this morning and took charge of the remains.

A ROMANTIC WEDDING.

Twice the Bride-elect Discarded Her Impatient Suitor.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., March 21.—After three attempts, what is the most romantic marriage in this section, was consummated. Two years ago Mrs. Lizzie Morgan saw an advertisement in a newspaper, asking for correspondents. She thus became acquainted with John M. Blue, of Vanhorn, Iowa, a wealthy farmer, worth a 200 acre farm and $30,000 in cash. Photos were exchanged and the marriage was arranged for last November. They had never met. Blue came here, but the bride's father lay dying and she refused to desert him. Blue offered her a check for $2,500 if she would consent to immediate marriage, but she refused. He left but to return again two weeks ago, and yesterday Blue telegraphed that he was coming last night. He arrived and, the bride being willing, the marriage was celebrated by the Rev. W. H. Sheets. The groom is fifty three years old and the bride about thirty.

BOTH GUILTY.

The Former Sentenced to the Penitentiary for Life and the Latter for Twenty Years.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 21.—Clarence Robinson has been found guilty of murder in the second degree, and his wife, Sadie, of manslaughter for the killing of Montgomery Gibbs. The verdict of the jury was tendered immediately on the opening of court to day, the twelve men having been out since two o'clock yesterday afternoon. So intense was the interest in the outcome of the trial that the city hall corridors were crowded, long before the hour of opening of the court. Sheriff deputies with staves struggled with the throng to keep them from bursting in the court room doors. It was with difficulty that a passage was cleared for the entrance of the handcuffed prisoners and the judge.

When the jury were in their places the intense straining of attention to hear their verdict made the court room as silent as the tomb. The jury was asked:

"Gentlemen, have you agreed upon a verdict?"

The venerable foreman replied: "We have."

"How do you find?"

"Clarence Robinson guilty of murder in the second degree; Sadie Robinson guilty of manslaughter."

Then the formality of polling the jury was gone through with. Clarence Robinson was sentenced to life imprisonment and Sadie for twenty years.

At the announcement of the verdict the Robinsons brightened up and their attorney beamed with delight. The judge then directed the defendant, Clarence Robinson, to be sworn. The prisoner stood up and answered the usual questions regarding his age, occupation and parentage, and when asked if he had any reason to allege why sentence should not be passed upon him, said that he had. Standing erect and looking remarkably well for a man who had endured a ten days' trial for his life, Robinson addressed the court thus: "I deny that we were there when this murder was committed and that we attempted to commit a felony. The verdict, it seems to me, is not in accordance with the evidence. And as far as evidence is shown by the prosecution, there is not one thing showing that we were on the spot that night. This verdict came upon me unexpectedly. I do not think it a just verdict. If they found me guilty the verdict should have been murder in the first degree. But there was no evidence to prove that. How could they find me guilty of anything else?"

COPPEE DEAD

The Great Educator Drops Down Suddenly.

BETHLEHEM, PA., March 21.—Dr. Henry Coppee, acting president of the Lehigh university, died suddenly this morning of heart disease, aged seventy-five years. Dr. Coppee was in class '39 at Yale and graduated at West Point in 1845. He was breveted captain for gallant and meritorious conduct in the Mexican war. He was professor of English literature at the University of Pennsylvania, from 1855 to 1866, and was then elected president of the Lehigh university. He resigned in 1875 but has been acting president since the death of Dr. Lamberton. At the time of his death he was regent of the Smithsonian institute, being first appointed in 1874.

COTTON BURNED.

Over $200,000 Worth of It Destroyed by Fire.

NEW ORLEANS, March 21.—A fire in yard No. 1 and 2 of the International cotton press at Gainnie and South Peters streets which broke out at 3 o'clock this morning and was not extinguished until 10:30 this forenoon, burned between 15,000 and 20,000 bales of cotton. A high wind was blowing at the time and the flames were swept from one side of the street to the other. The entire fire department was called to the scene and remained for six hours. The loss will probably exceed $250,000, all covered by insurance.

STUBBORN FIGHT.

Paddy Purtell and Johnson Fight Twenty-two Rounds.

GALENA, Kas., March 21.—Paddy Purtell, of Kansas City, knocked out Johnson, "the terrible Swede," after twenty-two rounds of hard fighting last night. Johnson was terribly punished and was unconscious fully ten minutes after receiving the knock-out blow. Purtell conceded nearly thirty pounds in weight.

Greenhut's Case Will Come Up April 22

STORE HOUSE BURNED.

The Western Transfer and Implement Company the Loser.

The Building and Stock Wiped Out—The Fire Reaches an Oil House and Is Still Raging.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., March 21.—The storage house of the Western Transfer and Implement company burned today. The building was a four story frame structure and was full of farm machinery. The loss on the building will probably reach $150,000. The heat was so great that the firemen were compelled in fighting the flames, which spread to the National Linseed Oil company's storage building containing about 10,000 worth of oils. It is thought the flames will spread to the main building and if they do the loss will be $100,000 to $150,000 more, and other surrounding plants will be in danger. The fire is thought to have been started by a spark from a passing engine falling into a barrel of tar, standing outside the implement warehouse. No estimates on insurance are obtainable.

LATER.

It looks as though the main building of the linseed oil mill may be saved. In the storage house of the mill, which has already burned down, were stored 120,000 bushels of flax and 100,000 pounds of oil flax. A forty mile an hour wind is blowing. The loss is now estimated at $400,000 to $500,000. All the property of the linseed oil mill is said to be fully insured. On the implement works there is $60,000, which will probably cover about half of the loss.

LIBERIA UNHEALTHY.

American Negroes Cannot Survive There Over a Year.

C. W. Chapman, a Missionary to That Country, Thinks the Colored People Should Go to South Africa.

CHICAGO, March 21.—The reports of the sending of negroes to Liberia by the Migration society, of Alabama, and of the colony of negroes settling in Mexico, have aroused much interest among the colored people of this city, which may result in an exodus of a large number. G. W. Chapman, who was a missionary to Liberia for several years and is now studying medicine in this city, speaking of the matter, said: "I think it is a mistake for colored people to go to Liberia, for its climate is not fit to live in. It is almost impossible for the white man to live there, and the colored man cannot fare much better. The country is exceedingly malarious and nearly nine-tenths of those who go there die in a short time from African fever. They also suffer from large running sores on the legs. The soil is very fertile and the country is rich in fruits, but this is more than counterbalanced by its bad climate. In my opinion the southern part of Africa is a much better region."

PROTECTION RALLY.

Governor McKinley Will Be Asked to Attend.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 21.—Local politicians have a movement on foot in this city to induce Governor McKinley, of Ohio, who is now at Thomasville, Ga., in search of health, to come to Atlanta for the purpose of being the central figure in a rousing protection rally. This effort follows the recent organization in Atlanta of a republican club and a protective club, both of which make large claims as to the number of their membership. The first movement in this direction was the announcement by a local politician, J. D. Collins, that he had deserted democracy for republicanism. Collins was recently defeated for a small county office. A letter has been written to Mr. McKinley begging that he come to Atlanta on his return from Thomasville and also suggesting that he hold a conference with Collins, who is willing, it is said, to go to Thomasville.

BUD DOBLE TALKS.

Says the Two Minute Mark Will be Reached.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 21.—Bud Doble, the noted horseman, who stopped off here on his way to Chicago, talked for a little time about his string for the coming season. He expressed the belief that a two minute mark would be reached, but not necessarily this year. The principal horses in which he places confidence are Strangerer, Pallona, 2:11½; Prince Herschell, 2:13, and Elleed, 2:15. Doble deprecated betting on races and said it should be abolished in order to elevate racing. Regarding the formation of an American sporting league he said: "I believe the effort is commendable. It will do much to put racing on its merits. The National and American Trotting associations should have taken cognizance of the condition before now."

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

Will Not be Successful in the Orient.

YOKOHAMA, March 21.—It is expected that the negotiations for peace between China and Japan will not be successful. The army is the dominant power in Japan and the military are bent upon continuing the campaign. Fresh troops are being hurried forward. In the house of representatives notice has been given of a motion declaring that the time for peace negotiations has not arrived.

Gored by a Bull.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 21.—Word has been received of the bull goring of Calisco, state of Nuevo Leon, Dox the most famous bull fighter in Mexico and "impresario" of the Espectalli ring in this city. He was gored in the groin and badly trampled, making death certain. Ponciano Rodriguez, who was nearly killed in a similar way at Durango, was an old associate of Diaz.

SHOT HIMSELF.

Hon. Joseph Jackson, of La Porte, Commits Suicide.

Became Despondent Over His Defeat for County Office and Ends All in Death.

LAPORTE, Ind., March 21.—Joseph Jackson, an ex-county official, committed suicide at 1 o'clock today by shooting himself in the temple. Mr. Jackson had been despondent since the expiration of his term of office, last November, and had made repeated threats to end his life. This noon, after he finished his dinner, he walked into another room and seating himself, deliberately fired the fatal shot, being found a few minutes later by his wife. Mr. Jackson was widely known throughout northern Indiana in political circles.

UNFORTUNATE FAMILY.

Ferd F. Boltz Nearly Killed Three Weeks Ago.

The Father Lost an Eye Last Summer and His Saw Mill Burned Down Some Time Before.

Yesterday THE SENTINEL chronicled the accidental killing of Ferdinand Fred Boltz a nephew and namesake of Ferd F. Boltz of Bluffton. The young man was quite well known in this city as are his parents. Some years ago the family moved to Irvine, Ky., where the father, assisted by the son, conducted a large saw and planing mill. However, they seemed destined to ill luck. Some time ago their mill was swept away by fire and a serious disabling to their business followed. Last summer the father lost an eye by an accident while working at another mill. About three weeks ago the young man who met his death Tuesday came nearly being drowned. The ice had gorged in the river which furnished water for the mill and Ferd and another young man about the same age (twenty six) endeavored to break the jam and save the saw logs which were lying in the river ready to be cut up. The young men secured long poles and were in the middle of the stream trying to loosen the jam when the gorge broke and the ice went rushing down the swollen stream at a fearful rate. The two young men clung to a large cake of ice and were not rescued until they had floated down the river several miles and then only with great peril did they succeed in reaching the bank.

HOCKEMEYER.

At her home in Marion township, at 6 o'clock Wednesday night, occurred the death of Mrs. Wilhelmina Hockemeyer, the wife of Frederick Hockemeyer, a prominent farmer. Mrs. Hockemeyer was seventy five years of age and was a sufferer from ills incident to old age. The funeral will be held Sunday next from the home at 1 o'clock, and an hour later from the Lutheran church on the Piqua road.

CHERRY.

Miss Alice J. Cherry, aged forty years, died today of consumption at her home, 38 St. Marys avenue.

TAKES THE PLACE

Of Treacherous Natural Gas and Expensive Coal.

There is on exhibition at 59 East Columbia street, under the supervision of Chas. W. Cook, a new device for the manufacture of fuel. It is one that has long been needed to take the place of treacherous natural gas and expensive coal. The prime feature is its safety, convenience and its cost not to exceed natural or artificial gases. The gas is made from oil and water. These combined are forced through a number of pipes and formed into a vapor, thereby making a very hot gas. The heat is moist and does not affect household furniture as does natural gas.

The trouble that Fort Wayne has had regarding the supply of gas almost recommends this to the public. There has been some talk of forming a stock company for the manufacture of burners and supply the citizens with a reliable fuel. Mr. Cook invites the public to call and examine this device and will give them all possible information.

FOUND HIS SON.

William McKinley Locates His Long Lost Child.

Fort Wayne Has a Hazing Sensation—A Graveyard for Old Dead Horses—Police Jottings.

Some days ago a rather curious incident occurred in this city, in which a long lost son was restored to his father after the latter had in vain searched the country over for traces of the lad. About ten years ago a man named William McKinley separated from his wife in this city, the court giving the mother the custody of the male child, then quite small. The father left the state and not long afterward the mother remarried and moved west. Her second husband did not take a fancy to the stepson, and the mother, before she left the city gave the boy to Mrs. Henry Poyser, of Mercer street.

This lady took excellent care of the boy and gave him a good education, but long ago Mr. Poyser died and his wife, finding the boy at a troublesome age, made an effort to find his father. All traces of McKinley had been lost but, accidentally, the lady learned there was a man by that name living in Toledo. She therefore asked Rev. Ainsley to write to Toledo and make inquiry. This was done and the next train brought the boy's father, whose delight at getting possession of his long lost child was touching. Mr. McKinley stated that he had searched for the boy all over the country for years. Father and son left for Toledo, both highly delighted.

MENACE TO HEALTH.

The authorities are investigating the case of A. J. Langohr, whom they claim has a graveyard of old horses on Walton avenue, below Pontiac. It is claimed that the carcasses of eighteen old horses are lying side by side and only covered by a foot or so of loose soil. A number of persons have complained of the matter and it is said that Langohr has been buying up old decrepit horses and skinning them. He then partially buries the carcasses until the flesh decays, in order to secure the bones. It is said that dogs in the neighborhood have been digging up this graveyard and scattering the putrid flesh far and wide.

HE WAS HAZED.

It has just leaked out that a crowd of good sized boys have been guilty of a cruel hazing trick which savors considerably of some of the college atrocities. It is said that all parties concerned belong to a well known church organization. The other night the order took in a new member and in order to give him a forcible reminder of the occasion the lad was bound hand and foot and carried out near the east yards. Here he was unceremoniously dumped in a dark alley and left to free himself as best he could. The boy did not at all relish the joke, but was finally released by passers by.

Birthday Anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Grayless.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Grayless, in Lake township, last Sunday, was the scene of a very pleasant event, witnessing as it did a surprise tendered them by their friends on the occasion of the seventy seventh birthday anniversary of Mr. Grayless and the sixty-fifth birthday of Mrs. Grayless. Forty guests were in attendance and they brought with them baskets of refreshments, which were served at the well laden table. Mr. and Mrs. Grayless were each presented with handsome rocking chairs, the presentation speech being made by W. R. Carey. Other presents by their children and grandchildren and by Mrs. Grayless' sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Sunderland. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Grayless are among the oldest pioneers of Lake township, having settled there in the year 1833.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION.

President Hindley, of Ridgeville College, Speaks in This City.

Last evening in the lecture room of Plymouth church Rev. Geo. Hindley, president of Ridgeville college, spoke upon "Christian Education and the Function of the Christian College," especially dwelling upon features of his work at Ridgeville. The college is [illegible] of work done [illegible] given to students who are deficient in one or more studies, and the cost of living at Ridgeville is a marvel of cheapness, making it desirable for students of small means, $150 will cover expenses for a year. The spring term opens April 2 when fully seventy five students will be enrolled. The Congregational College and Educational society, with headquarters in Boston, gives $2,500 per year to this institution, on condition that $1,000 is raised from the Congregational churches in the state. Last night Plymouth church pledged $50, which Mr. Ainslie, the pastor, thinks will be made up to $100.

An Exciting Time on the East Side.

Three Burglars Run Down and Captured by Citizens.

One of Them Runs Through the Maumee River and Shows Fight—Names Not Known.

Three young burglars, names now unknown to the police or reporters, were captured in the eastern part of the city at noon today, after an exciting chase.

Just before 12 o'clock John Swager, who lives on Coombs street, just next to the home of Luke Lavanway, who resides at No. 28 on this street, saw three young men crossing the commons and looking at the home of his neighbor in a very suspicious manner. Mr. Swager watched the fellows closely, knowing that his neighbor and wife were not at home.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.

The three young men made straight for Lavanway's house, but Swager, it appears, lost sight of them, for the next thing he knew he heard a woman screaming next door, and looking out, saw the same three young men running at full speed down towards Erie street. Swager ran out and, calling to Anthony Greib, started after the trio of fleeing thieves.

A WILD CHASE.

These two men were soon followed by a large crowd of other men and boys and the race became very exciting. Two of the burglars, however, were unable to get away and were finally caught near the corner of Erie and Begue streets. They were soon surrounded by an excited crowd and a moment later the patrol wagon came dashing down the street, with Officers Gallmeyer, Tanner and Foulks. The two burglars were hustled into the blue wagon and taken to the station house. Both were very well dressed and looked to be not over twenty-two or twenty-three years old.

Upon being searched, a number of silk handkerchiefs, knives, keys and other trinkets were found upon them. The prisoners were locked up and booked for attempted larceny. They refused to give their names.

THE THIRD MAN.

The third burglar seemed to have disappeared, but he, too, came to grief. A few moments after the patrol wagon had gone to the station Mike Grotta, who lives on Harmer street and who had heard of the attempted burglary, saw a young man pass his house looking decidedly scared and as though he had been running. Mike called his brother-in-law, Ben Neiman, and both stopped the young stranger. The lad said he had just come from the east and was sick, at the same time asking for a closet. Mike said to him: "You are a burglar and we've got you! Where are your two partners?"

The stranger was carrying a heavy blue overcoat on his arm and no sooner had Grotta spoken than the fellow dropped the coat and ran. The two men took after him and chased the burglar up the Maumee river to the Columbia street bridge. Here the fellow ran through the shallow water to the muddy point of land made by the union of the three rivers.

BROUGHT TO BAY.

Here he could run no farther and, picking up a big rock, turned to fight his pursuers. A "rough and tumble" followed in which all parties were covered with mud.

SUPERINTENDENT LIGGETT APPEARS.

Superintendent Liggett lives in Lakeside, not far from the point where the fight between the burglar and the citizens was in progress. Mr. Liggett had just stepped out of the house after dinner and saw the fight going on. He ran over and soon had the crook under arrest.

The wagon was called and the burglar, when searched at the station, was found to have in his possession a number of skeleton keys and other burglar tools, besides four fine silk handkerchiefs.

All three of the crooks were seen by a SENTINEL reporter, but absolutely refused to talk.

While the two burglars who were first caught were running, one of them threw away a package, supposed to contain burglar tools. At 3 o'clock this afternoon this package had not been found.

It is suspected the three young men caught are the same who robbed the Roanoke bank.

LATER THINGS.

Superintendent of Police Liggett and Lieutenant Lapp went out to the Lavanway home late this afternoon and found that the burglars had gone through [illegible] ransacked things up side down.

AN ALARMING STATEMENT CONCERNING WOMEN.

HOW BAD HABITS ARE FORMED.

In nine cases out of ten the trouble is in the stomach and liver. Take a simple laxative and liver tonic and remove the offending matter which deranges the stomach and causes the headache. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are composed entirely of the purest, concentrated, vegetable extracts. One Pellet is a dose; sugar-coated, easily swallowed; once used, always in favor. They positively cure sick headache and remove the disposition to it.

MR. E. VARGASON, of Otter Lake, Lapeer Co., Mich., writes: "I find subsequently have an attack as for bosh, &c. It usually comes on in the forenoon. At my dinner I eat my regular meal, and take one or two of Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets immediately after, and in the course of an hour my headache is cured and no bad effects. I feel better every way for having taken them—not worse, as is usual after taking other kinds of pills. 'Pleasant Pellets' are worth more than their weight in gold, if for nothing else than to cure headache."

VINCENNES is taking a twist at enforcing the Sunday liquor law. Vincennes can make a success of enforcing the Sunday liquor law if its mayor is determined to do so. It all depends upon the mayor's backbone.

THE second international conference of the Epworth League is to be held in Chattanooga, Tenn., on the 27th, 28th and 29th of June. The people of this historic city are making great preparations for the big event.

DR. RAINSFORD, the New York clergyman who some of the liquor men love to quote, is in favor of a wide-open saloon. He would discourage men from drinking by increasing their opportunities to secure liquor.

THE Lagrange Standard is authority for the statement that Postmaster Fawcett has forwarded his resignation to the department, with a request that Editor Shinn, of the Lagrange Democrat, be appointed his successor.

IT will be just as well for fighting editors to keep their coats on while talking about the Alliance affair. We are not going to war with Spain right away. The American eagle is not going to fight, or scream even, every time some statesman yells. Our eagle is too wise a bird to waste its lung power.

UNION and Confederate soldiers will meet at Shiloh April 5, 6 and 7 to complete arrangements for the dedication of that famous battle ground as a national park. With the exception of the national cemetery at one side of it, which is carefully kept and is a beautiful spot, the battlefield is in much the same condition it was when the conflict took place.

IT is learned from an ecclesiastical authority very near to Archbishop Corrigan that the latter received $3,000 as his fee for performing the Gould-Castellane wedding ceremony. The archbishop received the money in the shape of a check, signed by George Gould and handed by him to Fr. Connolly, the archbishop's secretary. There was an understanding that $2,000 of this sum was to go to the Catholic Orphans' asylum in New York.

THE apologists for the saloon controvert the statement of THE SENTINEL that Martin Luther, the reformer, was a temperance advocate. We gave Martin Luther's own words for it. We would rather believe that he stood for temperance than that he was a wine bibber.

THE state financial board, composed of Governor Matthews, State Treasurer Scholz and State Auditor Dailey, have sent out notices of the letting of temporary loan bonds of the state. The board offers for sale $585,000 of bonds, which are to replace the 3½ per cent bonds falling due April 1. Bids are to be received at the office of the auditor of state until 8 o'clock next Saturday. The new bonds are to be sold at a rate not exceeding 3½ per cent. The bonds are to be redeemable at the pleasure of the state after fifteen years and are payable in twenty years from April 1, 1895. The bonds, it is announced, will be issued in denominations to suit the purchaser. The auditor has already received inquiries about the bonds. It is said that they are looked upon as first class investments, and the board expects to have no trouble disposing of them.

That National Labor Commission.

In an additional paper on the adjustment of labor difficulties Carroll Wright says that he does not believe at all in compulsory arbitration. Purely local strikes can be managed in the places in which they originate. But with transportation strikes and those involving extensive paralysis of business the public is intimately concerned, and for these he would have a national board appointed in accordance with the provisions of the McGann bill now before congress. He says the bill provides:

First. That a national board of arbitration shall be constituted for the purpose of conciliation whenever its good offices can be utilized.

Second.—For the broad investigation of labor troubles, that the public may be correctly and promptly informed of the facts.

Third.—For the submission in writing by the parties to a controversy of the difficulties and questions between them to the board for final and effective adjustment.

It does not provide in any sense for compulsory arbitration. It adds, beyond these points, the incorporation of labor organizations and follows along the lines of the prescriptive message of the president in 1886, when he called the attention of the congress specifically to the necessity of a permanent board of arbitration, a board that could act quickly and without waiting for the heat of a contest. The French government, by the law of Dec. 27, 1892, has crystallized these principles into its code relating to industrial arbitration, and it is gratifying to the advocates of these measures to know that the law is working with fairly satisfactory results. The measure pending in the congress of the United States is one which should receive the cordial indorsement of both employers and employees, because it is thoroughly fair to each and does not in any way infringe upon the rights of contract, but its provisions lead to the establishment of the rights of the public in matters relating to transportation, while preserving the integrity and the independence of employer and employee, so far as they should be preserved, in quasi public matters. The bill, should it become a law, would inevitably result in changing the status of railroad employees from purely corporate employees to quasi public servants. This is essential for the preservation of peace in transportation.

Examinations For Trainmen.

Surgeon Granville P. Conn of Concord, N. H., is of opinion that before men are employed on railroad trains they should be subjected to a thorough physical, mental and moral examination. In a paper in The Medico Legal Journal he declares that the physical test should be as severe as that for the United States army. He is quite correct in supposing that this examination would weed out a large proportion of the men who now apply for places.

After the applicant has passed the physical tests he may be admitted to the training classes for railroad employees, which Surgeon Conn would like to see established. The man should have as a basis for this instruction a good common school education to begin. He should be trained in the brake and signal systems and in the habit of inspecting tracks and every part of a car. Ventilation, cleanliness and the management of temperature Dr. Conn lays great stress on. If his suggestions were carried out, the comfort and safety of the American railway passenger would be largely augmented. The public will thoroughly agree with the doctor that a trainman who bribes or bullies a newsboy into giving him peanuts and bananas and then throws the shells and skins upon the floor as freely as the dirtiest of the passengers does is not a fit subject for a place in the employment of a good railway company.

A general movement in the larger cities seems to be making to get rid of tramps. Baltimore and Indianapolis have largely accomplished the feat, although it has to be done over again at the beginning of every winter. New York is to make the attempt next. A plan has been submitted to the mayor for the abolishment of the public gentleman of leisure. The first step will be to hold for examination next day all who apply to the police stations for lodging at night. All who do not belong in the city are to be sent out of it. An examination will be made into each case, the examination being so rigid that of itself it will strike terror to the tramp soul. Of the station lodgers belonging in New York, those who are worthy objects of charity will be turned over to the city charities organization. Those who are ablebodied will be sentenced to the workhouse for from one to six months. A term of one month, however, will do little good. Only the prospect of a bath at least once a week for six months, with work and the doing without whisky for the same term, will scare a tramp. That course of treatment would reform him more thoroughly than hanging him up by the thumbs or applying the rack to him.

The Russian Hebrews who swarmed to this country had in most cases large and not very interesting families. Yet these children are fitting into American and republican conditions with amazing rapidity. They have, to begin, that happy self confidence which characterizes their race the world over. Added to this, they are naturally linguists, understanding in the start the Russian and Hebrew tongues. Knowing these, any other language is mere play for them to learn. Among the brightest and most promising pupils of the city public schools are the young Russian Hebrews. They learn with amazing rapidity often and take naturally to writing, speaking and dramatic display. Some of these young Russian American Hebrews will be among the prominent newspaper men and politicians of the [illegible]

SHE WORKED TOO HARD.

How a Young Girl Was Broken Down.

Should Not Have Been Allowed to Thus Injure Herself.

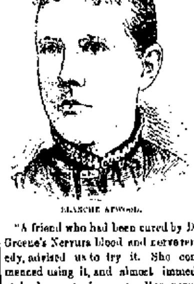

But of Course the Best Thing Was Done Under the Circumstances.

Perhaps you think you are not working too hard, but if you feel weak, nervous, tired, fretful, if you have dull feeling head, sleeplessness, are easily disturbed or excited, you are overtaxing your nerve strength. They are sure symptoms of exhausted nerve power.

Other symptoms soon follow, such as dizziness, trembling palpitation, dyspepsia, kidney and liver disease, poor blood and cold extremities. They lead to prostration, paralysis, insanity or premature death. Miss Blanche Atwood, of Stowe, Vt., got into just this condition. Her mother, Mrs S. G. Atwood, writes as follows about her wonderful cure:

"About a year ago, my daughter, Blanche, from too close application to study, became worn out. Her head was all confused, and at times she was almost crazy. She was terribly nervous and did not sleep well at all.

"She was in a frightful condition, and we worried constantly about her. We were obliged to take her from school, for she was not able to attend. She was completely used up and good for nothing.

BLANCHE ATWOOD.

"A friend who had been cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, advised us to try it. She commenced using it, and almost immediately began to improve. Her nerves grew strong, she slept well and her head became clear.

"She was soon entirely cured of all her troubles and was in perfect health. The medicine benefitted her general health also, as she was much better and stronger than before. I recommend Dr Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to everybody."

If you have overworked in any way and weakened your nerves, or injured your health, you can get well by taking this wonderful medicine. There are thousands of people who are in just this condition. They are not sick with any particular disease, but they are out of order, have weak nerves and tired bodies. The do not eat or sleep well, wake tired in the mornings, have lost their snap and energy, and work becomes an effort. Such people need Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It gives health and strength. It should by all means, be used at this season, for it is the best of all spring medicine.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene, is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

CONTRACT LABORERS.

One Hundred and Twenty-five of Them Headed Off.

Were Diamond Cutters and Were En Route Here to Work for Importers of the Precious Stones.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The large consignment of diamond cutters for whom the immigration authorities have been on the lookout arrived today on board the White Star line steamship Majestic from Liverpool. There were 125 of them, all second cabin passengers. They were detained and sent to Ellis island, suspected of being contract laborers. Anticipating their arrival on the Majestic, Dr. Sennor, commissioner of immigration, had assigned an extra large force of inspectors to the work of gathering the foreigners in. More than two hours was consumed in the work of placing the men safely on board the landing boat for Ellis island.

There they will be given a speedy examination, and those who can be proven to have come over under contract will be sent back. This will be done in accordance with the decision of Secretary Carlisle last Saturday, in which he held that diamond cutting was not a new industry which the importers of this city claimed, and that those coming under contract were to be treated as any other contract laborers. The Majestic sailed March 13, three days before the secretary arrived at a decision in the matter.

Everyone about the pier remarked the exceptionally fine appearance of the men, and Purser Brandt, of the Majestic, declared them to be the most desirable lot of immigrants ever brought to this country. They were all well dressed and many of them looked as though they had just slipped from a London tailoring establishment. The majority of them, it was stated, were well provided with money. They come principally from Belgium and Holland.

Mrs W. W. Fleming and daughter, Miss Esther, left today for Toledo to visit Mrs. Perkins for a short time.

EIGHTY YEARS OLD!

Over Half a Century a Citizen of Fort Wayne.

William B. Walter Writes His Farewell Address and Discusses Several National Topics.

William B. Walter, one of our oldest and most esteemed citizens, and a frequent contributor in times past to the newspapers of this city, is eighty years old today, and hence takes this anniversary as the occasion for writing his farewell letter, in which he gives expression to his views upon several questions which he has frequently discussed through the columns of the papers. He is a clear and forcible writer and has decided opinions on public questions. His letter, addressed to THE SENTINEL, is as follows:

EDITOR SENTINEL:

According to a "record of births" in the old family Bible the undersigned became an octogenarian at "3 o'clock" this morning, March 21, 1895. He has been a citizen of Fort Wayne nearly fifty one years and has seen it grow from a very small beginning to its present grand proportions. As to health, he is quite well preserved and can walk a mile in twenty minutes with little or no fatigue. His habits have always been regular and he was never drunk in his life. He has no use whatever for "liquors and tobacco" and can see nothing but evil in them. Some people use narcotics and yet live to a good old age; but how many years longer they could and would live without them is never mentioned.

One thing is certain, namely, that alcohol is a poison and if used habitually is but a slow suicide and will sooner or later destroy human life. It will preserve bugs, spiders, snakes and the like and so will arsenic, but it will also put snakes into one's "boots." To its use, as a beverage, is directly traced 90 per cent. of all the crimes and social evils in the world and yet its sale and manufacture is legalized and "licensed." Worse than strange or even mysterious, this is a mark of political insanity, the most potent and degrading of all others. As to the weed called tobacco, it is not only more disgusting, but far less useful than either "rag-weed," "smart-weed" or even "dog fennel."

Please listen to a few more expressions from an octogenarian, known in the past as "Old America," in contradistinction to that of young America. I hope your readers will do so, because even among the ancient pagans the advice and opinions of the sages were sought after and respected. Then don't get it into your heads, my boys, that the age we live in is up to the highest mark of civilization. Our late congress and state legislature both prove the contrary. To me it looks as if the people must all be "born again." Public opinion must undergo a radical change and for that purpose our pagan system of education must be abandoned. Not only the laws of health but those which form the basis of our social and political system must be better understood and the moral code must be deeply impressed upon the minds of youth by object lessons exemplified in the daily lives of those who teach. * * * * *

As the family, so the nation; and as no family can be prosperous and happy unless every member thereof make some personal sacrifice for the general good, and do so cheerfully and pleasantly, so too must every citizen learn this great lesson and practice it. This is true patriotism, and without patriotism no nation can endure. Physical patriotism or animal force we have plenty of it, but moral patriotism, which is just as essential in times of peace, we have precious little of it except upon the lips on the 4th of July or some such occasion. The people are sending few, if any, moral patriots to our legislatures, state or national, and the truth is that they have but few or none at all to send. The large majority seem to be little more than intellectual vampires bent on the ruin of their country and the impoverishment of the people. The constitution ought to prohibit them from creating a public debt, which is not a "national blessing," except to the rich only. To the masses of the people it is a national curse and nothing less. We can never prosper while paying a million a week interest on a bonded debt. Interest is a malignant cancer on the body politic eating its way day and night, and will ultimately destroy its victim. * * *

To the people belong the public lands and the minerals therein contained. Thus far both have been most prodigally wasted and gone to enrich individuals only. Let the people see to it that the government husband what is left—favor the poor and the many rather than the rich and the few, and when it needs gold and silver call on the idle hoarders of the country to go and dig it. It is theirs and if, per chance, some of it gets into their pockets, far better so than to congress, Wall street or London. Then again, the salaries of all the officers are entirely too high and a source of political corruption; and, as civilization advances, the "elective franchise" too will be reformed, purified and extended to all law abiding citizens, but to them only, and thus it will cease to be what it is at present, both a farce and a fraud. No greater check upon wrong doing could possibly be devised than that of disfranchisement. * * * *

And now a few words more in regard to myself personally, because I intend this as my last public expression outside the book I am compiling. "I would not live always—I ask not to stay," but when the end comes I do ask, beg and pray that I get no "send off" so common now-a-days. Neither praise nor blame will then do me any good, and as I die the death of a poor sinner, I want not the funeral of a rich one. No flowers, no organ music nor even sermon, if it be a part of the same "send off." Let the undertaker furnish carriages for none but the pall bearers and nearest akin and avoiding every kind of display, so vain and unbecoming, pass along the least frequented streets to the cemetery and there the only epitaph I want is already on the granite stone, "At Rest."

WM. B. WALTER.

PYRAMID PILE CURE.

Absolutely Safe and Certain.

CURES HOPELESS CASES

Physicians Recommend It, Druggists Sell It, Everybody Praises It.

If we could sell one package of Pyramid Pile Cure to every person in America who is troubled with piles and who would gladly give the dollar to be rid of piles, we would have about ten million dollars. The only reason that we don't sell that many packages this year is that we will not be able to get ten million people to try it. Just one application will prove its merits and amply repay the cost of a whole box.

The effect is immediate. Comfort comes at once and continued treatment will cure any case, no matter how bad.

Pyramid Pile Cure soothes the inflamed surface the instant it touches it, heals it, reduces the swelling and puts the parts into a healthy, active condition. There is no substitute for it. Nothing compares with it.

We have never heard of a single case that it failed to cure; we have heard of thousands that it has cured quickly and completely.

Here are a couple of letters recently received.

From Geo. C. Crick, Owens Mill, Mo.

Some time ago I bought a package of Pyramid Pile Cure for my wife who had suffered very much. The first trial did her more good than anything she has ever tried. It is just what is claimed for it.

From Richard Lenn, Whipple, Ohio.

I have used the Pyramid Pile Cure and am entirely pleased and satisfied with results. It does the work and no mistake.

The proprietors of Pyramid Pile Cure could publish columns of similar letters, but these are enough to show what will do in different cases.

All druggists sell Pyramid Pile Cure or will get it for you. Sold at 50 cents and $1.00 per package and made only by the Pyramid Drug Co. of Albion, Mich.

WIFE UNTRUE TO HIM.

Frederick Miles Asks for a Divorce From His Wife

Because She is Leading a Life of Shame—Lyman D. Nugent Sues for Personal Injuries.

Because his wife, Nellie Miles, has become an inmate of the house of ill fame of Nellie Hines, and persists in living a life of shame, in preference to being the virtuous wife of a devoted husband, Frederick Miles has brought suit in the circuit court against her for divorce. The Leonard Bros. filed the complaint and they allege in it that the parties were married about a year ago, that the wife has been untrue to her marriage vows; has been guilty of adultery, and since last January has been an inmate of Nellie Hines' house of ill fame. The defendant is a very good looking girl and is popular in the circles of loose morals.

Lyman D. Nugent, through his attorneys, Henry Colerick and J. E. K. France, has brought suit in the circuit court against the Pennsylvania Railroad company for $1,975. The petition alleges that the plaintiff, while engaged as head brakeman for the company, met with an accident at Upper Sandusky, O., by which he had his foot cut off and was otherwise injured. The accident took place on the 25th day of last November.

The case of Taylor against Lehman is on trial to a jury in the circuit court. It is the second trial of the case, the first trial having taken place before Judge Dawson in the superior court. The plaintiff sues for rent.

The Order of Chosen Friends will hold a meeting tonight and arrange for an excursion to Rome City during the summer, and also for the proper observance of their anniversary, which occurs March 30th.

Dr. F. Park Dreyer, city bacteriologist, has moved his laboratory from the basement of the Hedekin property on Wayne street to the second floor of the Fruit House block. The new quarters are the most desirable which the doctor has so far had.

The noted John P. Quinn, who was for twenty-five years a professional gambler, has been secured by the City Y. M. C. A. to deliver a series of talks on the "Evils of Gambling," beginning Sunday, March 24. Mr. Quinn's story of his prison life is very touching. His long life of gambling has acquainted him with every method practiced by those engaged in it. The meeting Sunday will be for men only.

La grippe is more prevalent in Fort Wayne just now than for many months past. Druggists are doing a rushing business for sneezing customers. Several members of the police force, including Lieutenant Henry Lapp, are laid up and the public schools are also feeling the serious effects of the malady. Yesterday afternoon in four hours one druggist put up twenty one prescriptions for grippe sufferers.

A Slow Run.

When one leaves the main line of railway, east or west, and travels, or tries to travel, on the same road which merely serves a local purpose, he is likely to find prevailing a free and easy state of things as regards speed and schedule time. An Australian correspondent gives this account of a certain "flier" out there.

People never take this train except for journeys of considerable length. Walking is as easy and much safer for short distances. On a recent occasion, when the movement of the train was even more deliberate than usual, a passenger went to the conductor and said:

"Ain't we going pretty slow?"

"Well," said the conductor, "we ain't flying, I'll admit."

"May I ask what the trouble is, then?"

"Ain't any trouble."

"Then why don't we go faster?"

"Well, I'll tell you, since you seem to be so inquisitive. Back here we found a 3 year-old bull stuck in the trestle, and we stopped and helped him out. Now, the rules of the road are that in such cases the animal belongs to the company."

"But how does that make you run so slow?"

"How slow? Why, that 'ere bull ain't used to being led, and when we hitched him on behind the train he didn't walk well. I'm doing all I can—got one of our men punching him from behind with an umbrella and an ear of corn tied to the bell rope. But if you think I'm going to twist the horn off as good a bull as there is in the county, why, you're awfully mistaken, that's all."

A Twentieth Century Episode.

Mrs. Heavy-Culture, her husband and their guest, Miss Boston Lorgnette, are seated at dinner.

The table appointments are charming, the dinner perfect so far, but the nonappearance of the maid after the first course creates a diluted panic in the mind of Mrs. Heavy-Culture's husband.

"My dear," he ventures in so low a voice that the question, should it prove unwelcome, might pass for a prolonged cough, "why don't you ring for Kate?"

"My dear" looked politely annoyed.

"I wouldn't think of interrupting her. I wouldn't dare. Her literary club meets tonight, and this is the only time she has to study. She can't serve the table and Ibsen at the same time. Ibsen, my dear, requires undivided attention." This with charming tolerance.

"The cook, then, my dear," he replied, with unprecedented insistence. "Why can't she take Kate's place?"

Mrs. Heavy-Culture looked at her husband over the bowl of roses. (She was tall; he was short and light.)

"Don't you know that her Trilbie-Hypnotic club met this afternoon, and that she will not be home until 8 o'clock?" She rises. "Pray excuse me while I bring in the fish."—Detroit Free Press.

Desperate Efforts.

Angelina (to her husband, who is going to Paris—"on business," of course—without her)—Do you think, darling, you'll be able to enjoy yourself in Paris without me?

Edwin—I'll try not to, dear. Believe me, Angie, I'll try my hardest not to.

Not to Be Depreciated.

"What a disagreeable creature the grip microbe is!" said the young woman.

"Well," replied Chally Cadigne, "I wouldn't think of speaking disrespectfully of it. You know it has been associating with the royal families."—Washington Star.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Master of Transportation Hunter, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, has already booked twelve to Rome City and he is kept busy answering inquiries concerning rates and dates. PASSENGER AGENT DEAD.

William Dwight Wetherill, special passenger agent of the Pennsylvania railroad, died in St. Louis last evening, after an illness of three years. He had held the position of special agent in that city for the past fifteen years, and was well known to members of the theatrical profession. The deceased was a prominent Elk and member of the Grand Army of the Republic.

R. T. M'DONALD'S NEW CAR.

The magnificent private car of General Manage R. T. McDonald, of the Electric Corporation, with that gentleman aboard, came in from the east over the Pittsburg last night, and is now standing on a siding at the electric works. This car was built at a cost of $20,000 a year ago for the president of the Northern Pacific railway, and was purchased last week in Chicago by Mr. McDonald. It has no superior in this country.

BRIEF MENTION.

Jacob Gretsinger, machinist at the electric works, is disabled by a lame hand.

Henry Terrell has been appointed to criver of the San Antonio and Gulf Shore road.

Quite a number of the electric works employes attended the funeral of Mrs. Becker yesterday.

Link Johnson, of the electric works, is taking a couple of days off to attend to some private affairs.

John Cuppert, of the electric works, will be taken into Summit City lodge, No. 36, A. O. U. W., tonight.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lepper are recovering after a serious sickness. Mr. Lepper works at the electric works.

This morning the electric works shipped two seventy-five arc machines and one alternator of 2,000 light power to Bloomington, Ill.

Last night John Woodward, of the electric works, was summoned to Michigan by a telegram announcing the serious illness of his mother.

Capt. R. L. Cobb, who, for several years, has been chief engineer of the Ohio Southern, has resigned and, it is stated, is to go with the Erie people.

Paul Wood, John J. Bauer and John Chadwick have resumed their respective duties at the electric works, after an absence on account of the Masonic convocations.

The interstate commerce commission is preparing for an extensive tour of the west in order to hear cases that have arisen in that section which demand adjudication.

The Pennsylvania railroad has issued a general circular to all ticket agents refusing to allow them to sell tickets over the Sea Board Air line either to points on that system or to points reached by it.

Peru Journal: "Sam Cutshall, who has been here for a few days visiting friends, returned to Fort Wayne at noon today. He expects to resume his run on the Wabash about the first of the month."

F. Bergborn, of the Pittsburg boiler shop, is sick and off duty.

Fireman Barnes and Grover Miller, of the Nickel Plate, are enjoying a vacation.

Miss Maude Keplinger, stenographer at the Bowser oil tank works, is suffering with the grip.

The Rose Coghlan Dramatic company went to Columbus, Ohio, over the Pittsburg this morning.

Charles LaRue, Pittsburg train dispatcher, is suffering with the grip for the second time this season.

The main shaft in the Standard Wheel works broke yesterday morning and the works were closed until noon today.

J. S. Reynolds, the attorney for the Panhandle company, was a passenger on No. 8 last night, bound for New York.

General Manager H. L. Magee, of the Wabash, passed through the city on No. 42 this morning, riding in his private car.

William Slater, the traveling representative of the Mailcarriers' union, returned from the west last night and will be in the city several days.

M. P. Gaskell, a painter in the Pittsburg shops, cut his right wrist badly with a putty knife this morning. Dr. G. C. Stemen dressed the wound.

Nickel Plate engine 38 was brought down from Stony Island last night and will do yard duty, vice No. 52, which will go into the shops for repairs.

Julo Goshway, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is able to be out, but has not yet resumed work. He is still suffering from the effects of an attack of grip.

Engineer Frank Findley, who was injured in the Wabash roundhouse fire at Toledo, is improving rapidly. He sent word to his wife that he would come home this evening.

L. A. Bookwalter, the well known machinist in the Pittsburg shops, received the particulars last night of the death of his brother, which occurred in Philadelphia last Friday.

Ralph Lopeman, Fred Hensel and J. W. Nolan have taken positions as firemen on the Nickel Plate. Hensel and Lopeman have been assigned to duty on the third district and Nolan on the fourth.

G. D. Woolpert, who for some weeks was night operator in the Nickel Plate yard office, has been transferred to Knox and his place here has been filled by A. R. Pritchard, of Green Springs.

Fireman McGinnis has resumed his duties on the Nickel Plate, after laying off to move his family and household goods from Cleveland to this city. He is now comfortably housed on Breck street, near the roundhouse.

The second class passenger rates over the Santa Fe have been restored to the regular figure of $52.50, Los Angeles, Cal., to Chicago. It has transpired since Passenger Traffic Manager White returned to Chicago that the Texas an Pacific and its eastern connections were cutting the rates, but that so keen was the competition in there lines that they contrived to get away with the business for which sleeping accommodations over the Santa Fe had already been received.

The fishing season was ushered in Tuesday afternoon by Engineers Haenel, Quinn and Baughman, of the Nickel Plate, who spent several hours in the vain attempt to hook a sucker. They had to cut holes in the ice, into which they cast their hooks, but neither fisherman got a bite.

The Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway company has issued a neat advertisement in the shape of a combined paper weight and match box. The newspaper men have been served with boxes and they find them convenient receptacles for paste, being too poor to smoke, and having no use for matches. It is understood that hereafter a pair of scissors will accompany each match box donated to reporters.

John H. Inman, of New York, in a letter to the Manufacturers' Record, says: "As an indication of renewed activity in the southern country, I may report that I have sold 45,000 acres of coal land, which I have owned for a long time, on the Cumberland plateau, in the Chattanooga district, to New York parties, for $275,000. They will probably commence developing the property before a great while."

The Pennsylvania railroad, in answer to charges made by the Monon road that it has been selling short mileage books to brokers in violation of the agreement, denies the charge and insists upon a prompt investigation. Chief Assistant General Passenger Agent Van Dusen said if it was necessary to prove that the statements of the Monon were false, the Pennsylvania company would submit their books to an investigation. But until such a hearing is given they will refuse to submit their books to an inspection. Mr. Van Dusen has asked for a hearing within a few days.

THE COLONY OF SHALAM.

Where Hetty Green's Cousin Is Making Children's Land.

[Special Correspondence.]

LAS CRUCES, N. M., March 14.—Years ago two children, cousins and constant playmates, romped together about New Bedford. One of them was Hetty Green, now rich beyond the dreams of avarice and avaricious beyond the imaginings of poverty. The other was Andrew M. Howland. He became a very successful wholesale wool merchant in Boston and amassed a large fortune, the whole of which he is now pouring into a home for destitute children. He has founded a colony called Shalam, which means "peace and plenty," some eight or ten miles from this place, at the western border of the Rio Grande valley.

A. M. HOWLAND.

The colony is under the wing of a sect calling themselves "Faithists of Jehovah," of which Mr. Howland is an ardent member.

Incidentally the Faithists intend to reorganize the religions, the science and the political economy of the world in accordance with the teachings of their bible, Oahspe, which was revealed through Dr. J. H. Newbrough, formerly a New York dentist. But the work especially enjoined upon them by their bible and their object as set forth in their charter of incorporation is to gather into Shalam helpless, homeless, parentless children, the children whom no one else wants, and there carefully educate them and train them to be self supporting. When they reach years of discretion, they can either return to the world or remain with the colony, as they choose.

The Faithists believe in community of goods, and so Mr. Howland is in no sense the owner of the 1,400 acres of land, with all improvements, upon which the colony is located, although the money expended was all once his. The ex-wool merchant and financial magnate of Boston is now only "trustee for the children at Shalam." But nevertheless he is the head, shoulders and feet of the enterprise, and is throwing into it all his heart, strength and energy just as freely as he has already cast in all his fortune.

Mr. Howland is a small sized man, 60 or 65 years old, with long, heavy, slightly curling hair and whiskers, now almost white, but evidently once of a reddish cast. What his whiskers leave visible of his face is thoughtful and very earnest, but kindly in expression. His blue eyes are set wide apart and are the eyes of a dreamer and idealist. He is a picturesque figure as he hurries about the ranch in his costume of white helmet, Chinese blouse of white flannel, Turkish trousers of white duck, blue sash and tan colored shoes and leggings. When the weather is fair, he goes barefooted, bare armed, more or less barelegged and usually bareheaded.

He is a vegetarian, as are all the Faithists, of the strictest sort, and he hates animal food with all the fervor of a true follower of that principle, but no more than he hates a photographic camera. Many are the kodak owners who have ridden out to Shalam and tried to persuade or inveigle him into being photographed. They have always found him both obdurate and wary, and not one of them has been successful. But I have been fortunate enough to get a sketch of him from an artist who had visited Shalam.

Associated with Mr. Howland are a number of helpers, young men and women, who are all of singularly serene and wholesome aspect. Whether it is their vegetarian diet, their unquestioning faith, their usefulness, the frequent bathing their religion commands, their untroubled lives, or what not, never have I seen anywhere else such delicate, clear, healthful skins, bright eyes and serene faces. The women are especially notable for the pure, brilliant white and rich coloring of their complexions. Even the children, though they were in the squalor of the slums and until they came here knew no purity of body or of mind, show already the same sweet, happy faces, pure complexions and rosy cheeks.

The care, training and teaching of the children, so that they may grow up with sweetness of spirit, vigor of body and keenness of intellect, is the especial work of the women of Shalam. Their leader in this is Mr. Howland's wife, a happy faced young woman from Boston, whom he married in the colony not long ago.

Asked why he had come to this out of the way corner of the world to start the colony, Mr. Howland replied:

"We wish to bring up the children entirely away from the contaminating influences of flesh eaters, liquor drinkers and those who find their pleasure in the gratification of their lower passions. Then we believe that in and near all great cities a vast army of drujas, spirits of the dead who lived wicked lives, lie in wait to bring children under the same influences which ruined them. But here the little ones are safe."

Thousand and one cranky notions though there are in the belief of the Faithists, the life at Shalam is pathetically beautiful, pathetic in its simple and unhesitating faith that through them the whole world shall be revolutionized, and surpassingly beautiful in the generous and loving devotion that lays all of life, strength and wealth at the feet of these little waifs of the world's crime and misery.

FLORENCE FINCH-KELLY.

His Perquisite.

"Waiter, a dozen oysters to commence with."

Baptiste comes along with the dish of oysters, takes up one, the finest in the lot, and swallows it right in the teeth of the stupefied customer.

"Come, now, waiter, what is the meaning of this?"

"Monsieur," Baptiste coolly replied, "I counted them. There were 13."—Happel.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at Rives Junction, she was brought down with pneumonia, succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at Dreier & Bro.'s Drug Store. Regular size, 50c and $1.00.

Those Horrible Streets.

"If you can't keep your feet dry and avoid the mud in any other way, why don't you put on your rubber boots?" inquired his wife.

"Why don't I keep off the mud with my rubber boots?" repeated Bilson angrily, surveying the Chicago street. "Because my rubber boots only come to my waist; that's why."—Chicago Record.

There were two new cases of diphtheria at the Indiana school for feeble minded youth yesterday. The cases were pronounced genuine diphtheria by City Bacteriologist Drayer.

This morning, at an early hour, as the Jefferson street short line car was being taken around the belt line it broke down, owing to a defect in one of the wheels. Traffic was delayed nearly an hour.

Mrs. Hoffman, librarian of the city library, says that in the six weeks that have elapsed since that institution was opened the first volume for registered applicants is nearly full. The volume holds 1,000 names.

Dr. Wm. P. Whery and Mr. A. A. Purman lecture this evening before the Theosophical society on "Organic Evolution and Creative Centers" at their rooms, corner of Harrison and Berry streets. All are invited.

This evening, at Randall hall, colored society will indulge in another cake walk. W. M. Dorsey, one of the managers, has received a letter from Toledo, stating that ten couples will be here from that city. About the same number are expected from Cleveland and as many more from Chicago. There will be not less than fifty couples in the grand march. Reinecke's orchestra will be in attendance.

Quite a number of visitors yesterday watched the process of cleaning out the city waterworks wells at the north side park. During the morning pieces of rock and gravel the size of hens' eggs were blown out. In the afternoon after the pumping process had been begun it was found that one well which had for some time been given up as dry had begun to flow at the rate of 150 gallons per minute. If all the thirty five wells can be forced to this capacity the city will have an excellent supply for the next few years at least.

The county commissioners this week visited the poor farm, making their regular quarterly inspection. They found everything in excellent condition, Superintendent Felts having placed the institution under the highest possible condition of excellence. There are now between ninety and one hundred occupants at the infirmary, but with the advent of warm weather this number will drop down to about sixty or seventy. The percentage of pauperism in this county is no larger than that of neighboring counties, considering the population. In fact, it is not so great as some.

Prof. Miles is drilling the large chorus choir which assists in the production of "The Messiah" next Thursday evening and they are making rapid advancement under his skillful and proficient management, reflecting credit both upon the director and the pupils. The artists engaged to interpret the solo parts have been chosen with careful attention. Miss Frances V. Carey, the contralto delights her hearers everywhere. The orchestra will consist of Reinecke's full instrumentation augmented by Rosenbecker's Chicago orchestra of twelve pieces, making it a monster orchestra of twenty-four pieces. "The Messiah" will be the musical event of the season.

Heller; secretary, Mrs. E. F. France; critic, Mrs. D. H. Caldwell; treasurer, Mrs. P. J. H. Meyers. A miscellaneous program, similar to the one of this year, will be arranged for next season.

Charles Denby, jr., secretary of the legation for the United States in China, and Miss Martha, daughter of Charles L. Orr, of Evansville, were united in marriage Tuesday. One year ago, while making a tour around the world with a party headed by ex-Secretary of State Foster, the bride met Mr. Denby, after a separation of ten years, and their engagement followed. Both were born and reared in Evansville. The wedded couple will visit friends at Detroit and then sail for China.

Mr. Hipp, of 15 Suttenfield street, corner Warsaw, was pleasantly surprised by his many friends in honor of his thirty second birthday anniversary. After a very enjoyable evening a dainty luncheon was served at 11 o'clock by Mr. and Mrs. Hipp. Those present were Mrs. Koenemann, Charles Camp, Mrs. Anna Koenemann, Mr. and Mrs. Isky, Mr. and Mrs. Fetel, Mr. and Mrs. Riehl and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Algeier, Mr. and Mrs. William Hambrock, Mrs. Shuster, Mr. William Ewing.

This afternoon, from 2 to 5, at her home, on West DeWald street, Mrs. D. L. Harding charmingly entertained guests at a thimble party. A dainty collation was served at 4. Among those present were: Mesdames C. H. Newton, H. D. Wunch, M. F. Porter, C. T. Lane, James Wilding, J. W. Trainor, B. V. Sweringen, Frank Randall, J. K. McCracken, M. E. Mayhew, G. D. Crane, Stephen Morris, Worthy Croxton, C. E. Crall, William Crighton, Byron S. Thompson, Ian Evans, John S. McIndy, Frank Poole, Herman Fisher, H. E. Meeks, G. W. Lahr, Misses Frank Swinney, Abbie Keegan, Emma Jenkinson.

A question of considerable controversy at present is, "Who should be served first at the dinner?" In these days when fads and fancies abound to such an alarming degree regarding tableware, the knowledge of the use of the various forks, spoons and other table accessories has become almost an art, and the observance at one dinner does not carry a novice successfully through the next. Etiquette forbids one guest waiting for another to be served so he must not stand upon the order of his eating, but eat at once, and if perchance he use his ice cream fork in disposing of the salad, sooner or later confusion is his. This difficulty is obviated by serving the hostess first. While it does not smack of true politeness for the hostess to eat while guests are waiting to be served, it paves the way for the uninitiated in the intricacies of table belongings and their usage. This conventionality is usually waived to do honor to the guest of distinction for whom the dinner is given.

Yesterday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. the Journal office was crowded with citizens of Fort Wayne and surrounding towns who wished to obtain a free sample of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure.

The throng was composed of people from all the walks of life. The banker, minister, mechanic and farmer, one just as anxious as the other to obtain relief from this dread disease. During the day could be seen on the streets, in the stores, cars and offices, men and women carefully counting out their dose of the wonderful little pellets, fearful that they should miss an hour of the forty eight in which time Munyon's Remedy is guaranteed to cure.

Prof. Munyon's representative was seen at the Wayne Hotel last evening, and in response to a reporter's inquiries said: "We have no doubt whatever as to the result of this test, having passed through the most searching investigations in Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Washington, Pittsburg, Cleveland, St. Louis, Rochester and Buffalo, made by the leading papers in those cities; and in no case have we failed to cure less than 91 out of every 100 who used the Remedies as directed. Oh, yes," he remarked, "this company puts up a cure for every disease just as efficacious as this one, and by the time this investigation is finished we expect to have at least 15,000 people in Fort Wayne converted to this school of medicine."

Munyon's Remedies are radically different from those used by the regular school of homeopathy, or any other system of medicine. There is no experimenting, no guess work, no danger, no loss of time. If you have a disease Munyon has the cure.

His remedies are sold by all druggists, mostly at 25 cents, and may save your life. Try them.
